Liberty township was the first to report, bringing its returns in at 11 p. m. Tuesday night. The last returns, from Cumberland township, reached the court house at 5:05 o'clock this morning. The first Gettysburg district to report was the first precinct of the first ward. It filed its tallies at 1:03 a. m.

LUTHERANS TO ASK $900,000

Some 600 churches of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran church have completed their plans for raising $900,000 by next April to help support the church's colleges and seminaries.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, said that the success of the campaign appears "very promising because of the large interest shown all over the United States."

The Central Pennsylvania Synod's drive is part of a larger national campaign to raise $6,000,000. The aid will go to 24 colleges and seminaries. Dr. Hanson, along with Dr. Abel R. Wentz, president of Gettysburg seminary, and Dr. G. Morris Smith, president of Susquehanna university, attended a meeting at Zion Lutheran church, Harrisburg, last week to map campaign plans. Thirty-nine other conferees were present.

The course decided upon includes voluntary contributions beginning January 1, with a preliminary canvass of church members in March and an intensive canvass one week in April.

Dr. Hanson said the drive is the first that Lutherans have made in support of their educational institutions.

Voters at the Democratic primary wrote in the names of 16 for councilman; 18 for school director; 12 for Burgess; ten for judge of elections; nine for constable; six for inspector of elections; five for justice of the peace and three each for auditor, assessor and tax collector.

BULLETINS

Harrisburg, Sept. 14 (AP) — Wets won out in 91 local option referendum and dry forces in 83 in Tuesday's primary.

But the dry victories resulted in the switch of 36 districts from the wet to the dry column although all but a few of the changes took place in communities where it is now impossible to get a drink of either liquor or beer — they have no licensed places.

Washington, Sept. 14 (AP) — Republicans crowded today that a "GOP victory in a Pennsylvania congressional race was a stinging rebuke" to President Truman's domestic policies.

President Truman sent the nomination of the 51-year-old officer to the Senate.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 14 (AP) — Police today said the $300,000 fire on Million Dollar Pier may have been set deliberately.

"We have every reason to believe it was arson," Detective Robert O'Keefe said after an initial investigation yesterday while the 43-year-old boardwalk landmark still smoldered. O'Keefe is the police department's arson specialist.

Washington, Sept. 14 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson said today he and British Foreign Minister Bevin are agreed that the need for a Japanese peace treaty is urgent.

Acheson indicated to a news conference that he still hopes Russia will cooperate in making the treaty.

Dover, Del., Sept. 14 (AP) — Additional state witnesses are due to take the stand today in the "lonely heart" murder trial of a 16-year-old farm boy and his mother.

Two witnesses testified yesterday that the youth, Robert Brennan, told them he shot and killed Wade N. Woodbridge, 67-year-old carpenter from Stone Mountain, Va., because his mother ordered it.

KINER HITS 2; NOW THREAT TO RUTH'S RECORD

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's fence buster, has stolen the headlines from the pennant race with his frontal assault on Babe Ruth's all-time home run record.

Twice last night the Pirate slugger tied Major League marks as he hammered Nos. 47 and 48 off Philadelphia Phil pitching. The marks were most homers with bases full in a season—four—and most homers in consecutive at bats—four.

With 17 games to go, 14 of them at Forbes field, the 26-year-old Kiner can beat the Babe's 1927 score of 60 if he keeps up his terrific September pace.

Right now he trails Ruth by three games as he got his 48th in game No. 137 while the late bambino smashed his 48th and 49th in No. 134. However, Ruth didn't connect with his 50th until game No. 138. Kiner can draw up even by hitting a pair this afternoon.

Kiner's first objective is Hack Wilson's National League high of 56, set in 1930. That's only eight away. He also has a good shot at the most homers in a month record. Cy Williams hung up the National League standard of 15 for the Phils in May 1923. Rudy York's 18 for Detroit in August 1937 is the Major League mark. Kiner has hit 10 so far this month.

Ties Two Marks
When Kiner blasted Hank Borowy for a grand slam homer in the first inning of last night's 11-6 win over the Phils, he tied the mark of four, held by six players including Ruth and Lou Gehrig. He followed this with another homer in the second inning. He hit for the circuit in his last two trips to the plate against Chicago Sunday, and also equalled the mark for homers in consecutive at bats.

St. Louis and Brooklyn kept pace in the race toward the World Series with the Cards shutting out New York, 1-0, on Red Munger's brilliant one-hit game. That left St. Louis still 1½ games in front.

Munger faced only 28 Giants, walking one man, in coping a tight duel from Dave Koslo. After Sid Gordon singled in the second, he retired 16 in a row until he walked Bobby Thomson in the eighth. Bobby was cut down in a double play.

There was a bit of luck attached to the lone Card run. Stan Musial, trying to hold back his swing, was credited with a double when the ball hit his bat in the first inning. Nippy Jones' single drove him home. The game was played in one hour and 31 minutes.

Brooklyn exploded for three runs in the 10th inning, two on Jackie Robinson's triple, to overcome Cincinnati, 6-3. The Dodgers were losing 3-2 with two out and nobody on in the ninth. Doubles by Gil Hodges and Carl Furillo sent the game into extra innings.

The Boston Red Sox gave warning that they are not to be counted out of the American League race by twice coming from behind to end Detroit's 10-game win streak, 7-4. With the Red Sox winning and New York's doubleheader with St. Louis postponed until today because of rain, the Yankees lead now measures 2½ games, the Yanks have 19 to play, Boston only 14.

Detroit hopped on Jack Kramer for three runs in the first, but the Sox came right back to tie on Al Zarilla's three-run double off Art Houtteman. After the Tigers got to Kramer for another run in the sixth, the Sox took the lead on Billy Goodman's single. Lou Stringer's double, Birdie Tebbetts' single and an outfield fly by Tom Wright, pinch hitting for Kramer, Mel Parrnell, the Sox 2½-game winning ace, came on to protect the margin.

Cleveland's scheduled night game in Philadelphia was rained out but Chicago and Washington were able to play their meaningless contest at Griffith stadium. Randy Gumpert won it for the White Sox, 3-2.

The Boston Braves-Chicago Cub game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Boston baseball story apparently was summed up in a newspaper headline the other day: "Dark says he'll be a better shortstop in 1950." . . . The Braves already are out of it and Beantown experts aren't counting much on the Red Sox' slim remaining chance. It's wait till next year again. . . . And next year, according to one informant, Billy Southworth will be back as Braves' manager but most of his team won't be back. . . . The question is where Lou Perini & Co. will get replacements for the unhappy veterans. . . . Roundabout report from California says the Yankees have bought Jackie Jensen, former U. of California fullback, and infielder Billy Martin from Oakland for a big price. . . . Speaking of Jensen, when the Santa Clara football team invited Barbara Jensen, the swimming champ, to rule over the football festival, Assistant Coach Herm Meister recalled what Jackie did last fall and said: "It's a good idea to have a Jensen on our side this year."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

This corner picks Charley Fusari over Rocky Graziano in tonight's Polo grounds fight on the theory that once a rock has been crushed, you can't put it together again. . . . It must have been a record or a quiz program in Standard, Ill., recently when three batters hit, in succession, a single, double and triple and nobody scored. The first was out trying to stretch his hit; the next two overdid the bags and were tagged. . . . Fred Thomson, who has been in the building contracting business since he left the Arkansas football job, is back coaching at Southwest Missouri State of Springfield. Maybe he's supposed to be building something there. . . . When Yogi Berra and Charley Silveira of the Yankees turned up at Yale's scrimmage Monday Coach Herman Hickman remarked: "I don't recognize anybody who can't block or tackle." . . . At that rate, Herman can't recognize his own team.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Eastern League will try again tonight to start its post-season play-offs, but the prospects aren't bright. Rain washed out the scheduled openers at Albany and Scranton last night and rain was predicted for today in both cities.

Weather permitting, the pennant winning Albany Senators will start Ancient Orie Arntzen on the mound against the Wilkes-Barre Barons, who finished the season in third place.

The 40-year-old righthander, who won 25 games and lost only two during the regular season, will face southpaw Roy Welmaker, whose 1949 record shows 22 wins and 12 setbacks.

In the other best-of-seven semi-final opener, the runner-up Scranton Miners take on the fourth-place Binghamton Triplets. Righthanders Sid Schacht of the Miners and Tom Gorman of the Triplets are slated to tangle in this affair.

Youngster Upsets Vet Woman Golfer

Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 14 (AP)—Coin tossing still is considered the best method of selecting a winner in the 49th annual U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship today but surviving veterans are more than a little worried about the baby in the competition.

She's 15-year-old Marlene Bauer, National junior golf champion from Los Angeles, Calif., who pitted her youth against the experience of six-time champion, Mrs. Edwin H. Vane yesterday and emerged a 4 and 3 winner over the rain-swept Merion golf club course.

The most surprising development in yesterday's second round play was the elimination of Frances Stephens, Southport, England, by Mrs. Julius A. Paye, 1937 amateur queen from Greensboro, N. C. Miss Stephens posed the first serious

Bowling League To Open Next Monday

The men's bowling league, which will be known as "The Littlestown Industrial League" met at Basehoar's rink on Monday evening to formulate plans for the league. The season will open next Monday night at 8 o'clock. There will be eight teams in the league, namely, Foundry, Rotary club, Eagles, Stonesifer's Record Shop, Keystone Cabinet Works, VFW, the Big "Six" and Ha-ry's. Two teams will bowl on Monday nights; two on Tuesday nights; and four on Wednesday nights. The entrance fee of $5 is to be paid the first night.

League rules will be the same as last year. Each team will be permitted to have nine members. The roster must be completed at the end of four weeks of playing.

A new rule was adopted as follows: Each team that wants to add a new player must notify the secretary one week in advance. The name will be posted at the alley.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)

Wilmington's Blue Rocks and the Trenton Giants clash tonight in the sixth game of their series to determine Harrisburg's opponent in the circuit's final playoff.

Trenton has won three games, Wilmington two. Rain forced postponement of last night's contest at Wilmington.

If Wilmington wins tonight, the seventh and deciding game also will be played on the Blue Rock's home field tomorrow night.

Harrisburg went into the finals by taking four out of six games against the pennant winning Allentown Cardinals.

FAVOR GRAZIANO

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, the biggest question mark and dollar mark in the boxing business, returns to the ring tonight a solid choice to whip Charlie Fusari in the polo grounds.

The much suspended Rock, making his first main stem start since he was flattened by Tony Zale 15 months ago, has been installed a 5 to 9 favorite to win. The price may go even higher by fight time, 9 p. m. (EST).

overseas challenge since Pamela Barton won the crown in 1936. Dorothy Kirby, Atlanta, twice a runnerup in this tournament, led one up going into the 18th hole. She landed in a water-filled trap just off the green and only a spectacular wedge shot that showered everybody near and far, enabled her to halve the hole and win over a game Rylma Strevel, of Mt. Clemens, Mich.

WESTMINSTER MEETS GHS 11 HERE FRIDAY

Smarting under the sting of their initial football defeat last Friday evening at the hands of Delone Catholic, the Gettysburg high school Warriors are busily engaged in preparing to meet Westminster high here Friday evening.

Coaches George Forney and Howard Shoemaker are concentrating on polishing up the blocking and tackling of their charges which left something to be desired last week. More speed in the line and backfield is also being sought.

Last year the Warriors encountered little trouble in defeating the Marylanders here by a 47-0 score but are anticipating much keener opposition this week.

Westminster is reported to have most of last season's squad members on hand again and Coach Ruby is hopeful of springing a surprise. The Westminster squad attended the Gettysburg-Delone game last Friday and this week is drilling to take full advantage of what it learned.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SPREAD IT!

That which brings enjoyment and profit to you can also bring the same to others. Then why not spread it?
I asked a friend to inscribe a book for me and this is what he wrote:
"To my friend, George, wishing him the success that I was saving for myself."

There are those who immediately draw you to them, and there are those who repel you. The influences of both travel. People talk about those who are pleasant and engaging far more than they do about those who do not have these qualities.
People spread themselves—keep giving themselves away—and glory in it, for it gives them satisfaction and genuine happiness.

So, if you like someone, spread the news that others may share the joy —and perhaps gain a lifetime friend.
If you read a book that impresses you, tell people about it. Tell other people about the beautiful things in this world, and it will help them to add to their collection. We don't appreciate enough. We ought to spread appreciation.

Spread the good about people.
There is nothing unique about spreading the bad. It spreads itself.
But many of the good—like the flower that "spreads its sweetness upon the desert air"—do the same thing, but without anyone knowing about it. Desert air, however, travels.
So does influence even though un-expressed outside itself.

We should spread good news whenever it turns up. We never know but what it may concern someone else far more than ourselves. How happy it has always made me to hear from people who have enjoyed and been inspired by the reading of books that I have so much enjoyed.
You can't give a good book too much advertising. Too many good ones have had to wait long years before genuine appreciation. And many a human being has not been given his just due.

God spreads his benefits everywhere. It is man who diverts them so that they fail to reach all. Nature is lavish in her gifts. They are spread about all over this earth. If you have anything that is good—spread it!
Especially if it's yourself.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Music."

THRILLS OF ACHIEVEMENT
Some bachelors I know proclaim The days and weeks are much the same;
And there are spinsters who can see Few thrills in all the days to be;
While others, lonely, old and gray,
Think time so slowly drags away.
But many—one of them am I—Have thrills that children small supply.

Four times I've thrilled this news to hear:
"The baby's come! and is a dear!
All's well! Go out and celebrate And spread the word with heart elate."
Four times I've thrilled to hear
"The baby got a tooth today!"
Then felt my chest with pride expand,
Which bachelors can't understand.

Well, here's another number four:
"The baby walked across the floor!" Yes! (Fairly shouted on the phone.)
Walked the full room length all alone!"
What follows next? Now, who can say?
They'll learn to read and write some day.
But what achievement holds to bring,
I'll get a thrill from everything.

Many Former Business Places In Biglerville Live Only In Memories Of Residents Today

Time grinds on relentlessly and leaves in its wake a continuous shifting of the scenes.

Should a nostalgic mood creep over the veteran residents of Biglerville they would discover how true this is. Going back through the years brings to mind many businesses which once were but are no more.

Not so long ago barrel manufacturing was big business in Biglerville.
Then Elton G. Boyer was making "apple barrels of the better grade" with "service our motto" as his slogan. In the same business was U. S. Kleinfelter, one of the founders of the Biglerville National bank.

Once Had Taxidermist

Hunters who wanted to get their big ones stuffed and mounted could find Charles E. Miller, a taxidermist, at their service. To serve Biglerville residents in the trying hours of death was R. H. Lininger, funeral director. Or if you wanted a new Ford, Frank R. Peckman was the man to see.

It was not so long ago that M. A.
Shue was doing electrical contracting and selling Deico supplies under the slogan, "Electricity for every-farm." On the corner was the Biglerville hotel with C. S. Rogers as proprietor. Gone now is E. C. Roth's 5 and 10 cent store, and the bowling and billiard parlor run by F. W.
Thomas. H. C. Bucher no longer serves as a produce man selling bananas, fruits and vegetables. And Sam Carbaugh's barber shop is no longer the hangout for those wanting to rehash the latest developments or perhaps to get a haircut.
People and businesses come and go but Biglerville remains a good place in which to live.

DROPS PROTEST

Harrisburg, Sept. 14 (AP)—John E.
Peters, defeated for the Republican nomination for city controller of Harrisburg, today withdrew a protest against a proposed increase in rates by the Pennsylvania Light and Power company. Peters made the proposed increase an issue in his campaign.

LAWRENCE WINS

Pittsburgh, Sept. 14 (AP)—Fighting off a rebel's attempt to unseat the Democratic leadership in this steel capital, Mayor David L. Lawrence today defeated Councilman Edward J. Leonard for the Democratic mayoralty nomination.

The country with the densest population is Java, with 737 people to the square mile.

Progress...

Progress is an advancement.

We like to think of Biglerville in terms of a step forward . . . a step toward better things in religion, education, industry and merchandising.
We believe that Biglerville is a growing community, one that is steadily improving its methods in every field. We believe that YOU will find YOUR NEEDS in our town.

Timely And Modern Suggestions Presented By Builders And Contractors

Features of two familiar Early American styles are happily combined in the five-room cottage plan introduced today by the Home of the Week Plan Service.

By adding a salt-box ell to a Cape Cod cottage, the designer has produced a home which is not only quaint and highly pleasing to the eye, but also extremely practical. The ell serves as a one-car garage.

The house is small, but well laid out, and includes all the conveniences the builder of moderate means can reasonably expect.

Some objection may be raised to the loss of floor space on the second floor, resulting from the sloping roof, but this loss has been partially offset by utilizing space under the eaves for built-in cupboards and chests of drawers.

Leeway in Plans
The outside dimensions of the house, which is called "The Edgewood," are 22 x 28 feet. The garage ell will add 10 feet to the width. The cubic content, including the garage is 15,000 feet.

Like most of the other plans in this series, the blueprints of the Edgewood give the builder a certain amount of leeway; changes can be made to meet his individual tastes and needs.

For example, in the photograph of the house, which accompanies this article, it will be noted that the arrangement of the side windows varies slightly from that shown in the plan. With this lay-out, the sink would be installed under the small window, instead of being placed against the rear wall, as the plan indicates.

Shelter Provided
In the living room, if the builder desires, a door can be cut through into the rear service hall. This would improve circulation through the house and possibly save the housewife many steps in the course of a day.

A storm-shelter at the front entrance of the cottage is provided by a copper-hooded framework, adorned at either side by vine-covered trellises. A glass door and storm windows, that fasten directly to the framework, make the entry snug in winter. Thus, throughout the year, the entry serves a practical use.

windows and a large clothes closet. The second bedroom measures 12 x 12 feet. It has two windows, giving cross ventilation, and a closet of ample proportions.

Both bedrooms, as already mentioned, have built-in drawers and cupboards utilizing under-eaves space. Each room also is planned with wall spaces that permit an occasional rearrangement of furniture.

Dampness Traced To Window Frames

Damp spots frequently appear on the interior surfaces of walls, but contrary to the impression of some home owners, only in relatively few cases are they caused by leakage through the walls.

Source of the trouble is usually found around window frames which are poorly built or improperly weatherproofed. These frames admit air and moisture, and the adjoining interior walls soon become unsightly with dirt and water stains. Water, finding its way into the wall around the window frame, may work along inside the wall and make a spot on the plaster surface several feet distant. Because of this, it is sometimes difficult to locate the source of trouble.

Home owners plagued by this annoyance should repair the windows and then cover the damage already done by a thorough repainting.

Why is it that almost everything we really want to do is either illegal, immoral or fattening?

DUPLEX BATHS AFFORD MANY ADVANTAGES

The trend toward low cost housing has given impetus to the duplex bathroom plan.

Although there are many variations of the duplex bathroom, the basic idea is to increase the usefulness of the room by making it possible for several persons to use different fixtures at the same time.

While it is recognized that the ideal arrangement is a bath for every room, nevertheless in low cost housing this standard is not always attainable. The purpose of the duplex bath is to provide some of the conveniences of the multiple bathroom at a lower cost as well as a saving in space. In other words, the plan represents a compromise between the multiple bathroom house and the single bathroom plan.

Economy In Piping

Distinctive features of every duplex bathroom are: Grouping of fixtures for piping economy; short runs of pipe; and the placing of fixtures back to back wherever possible.

The advantage of the duplex bathroom are obvious from the following description of two typical layouts:

A duplex bathroom in a house costing $4,700 is divided into two rooms. A water closet and lavatory are in one room and a lavatory and bathtub in the other. The two lavatories are set back to back. The closet is set against the same wall as the tub so that these two fixtures are virtually back to back, resulting in short pipe runs.

Between Bedrooms

This plan frankly recognizes the fact that the lavatory is the most-used fixture in the bathroom. Most of the congestion in the bathroom in the morning involves the use of the lavatory. Thus by providing for two lavatories, the utility of the house is greatly increased. Furthermore, the convenience and speeding up of family routine resulting from this plan far exceeds the cost of the fixture.

Each lavatory is equipped with a medicine cabinet. There is a shower over the tub. The bathroom has a shallow closet for towels, medical supplies, and other bathroom accessories.

Another variation of the duplex bathroom idea is illustrated by a room placed between two bedrooms. The room, which is 10 feet square, may be entered from either bedroom. Two lavatories and two closets are in two separate compartments. These are grouped along one wall with a separate window for each compartment.

The tub with shower is recessed against the opposite wall. The tub, being five feet long, leaves 2½ feet at each end for two linen cabinets.

These are only two of many variations of duplex bathrooms which have been evolved recently by plumbing contractors in an effort to build maximum utility and convenience into minimum space at the lowest possible cost. Skillful planning by plumbing contractors and architects enables home owners to have better and smarter fixtures with valves and fittings of good quality. It is never advisable, of course, to practice false economy with respect to the plumbing fixtures or the valves and faucets which are the working parts of the plumbing system.

USE SHAVED SOAP

To clean enamelled woodwork, melt ½ cup shaved soap in two cups of boiling water. Whip to a lather and apply with a sponge to a small space at a time. Wash, then wipe off the suds with a dry cloth.

Many Factors In Heating System

In the selection of an efficient heating system, there are several factors which not only affect the selection of the heating system itself but control, to a varying degree, the design of the house as a whole.

The type of system selected will depend upon: (1) Adequate capacity and quickly rinse with a clean soft cloth. Proceed until all the woodwork has been cleaned. This method helps prevent streaking.

In relation to the severity of the climate, (2) the form of the house and its effect upon the heat-distribution system, (3) plan layout affecting the location of the equipment, (4) the quality of the construction of the house, (5) the degree of convenience and comfort demanded, and (6) the fuel to be used.

When selecting a heating plant, it is advisable to get a written guarantee from the contractor to the effect that the equipment has a heating capacity sufficient to heat all habitable rooms to 70 degrees Fahrenheit when it is zero out of doors. In localities where the temperature commonly falls below zero,

MORE TIME for YOU!

You, too, can have more leisure time if you heat with an EMPIRE gas floor furnace.

This up-to-date heating unit makes no dirt, therefore, saves the daily labor of sweeping and dusting. Saves cleaning bills on your furnishings. No labor is required to "fire the heater" and carry out ashes.

You have the extra space you have always wanted for another chair or table.

The EMPIRE gas floor furnace requires no basement and is adaptable to any type house. It provides more healthful heat because burners are beneath the floor and do not draw oxygen from the room. You do not have soggy, dampened wall paper, steamy windows and ruined decorations as happens with out-of-date gas heaters. With exclusive construction features the EMPIRE burns less gas and outlasts other furnaces.

We'll gladly give you full information about this better heat.
